“H. P.” Indelible Mixture

The Ideal Mixture for Fabric Painting

THIS liquid makes oil paints ideal for decorating any kind of fabric. When mixed with oil paints, “H. P.” Mixture prevents spreading and at the same time renders the paint indelible. At first, it is advisable to experiment on a spare piece of fabric to determine the right amount of “H. P.” to use. Then place some of each color to be used on a blotter.
After a short time the superfluous oil will be absorbed. Transfer the colors to a palette. Dip the brush in the “H. P.” and mix some of it in the color to be used.
Proceed to paint, spreading the colors as thinly as possible. If the material is very light, such as crepe, chiffon, etc., using a blotter under the part to be painted will help materially.

When thoroughly dry the fabric can be washed without injuring the colors.
However, ordinary care should be used and the fabric should not be rubbed.
